

Why do we need four more representatives to bring the total up to 87 when we are so over represented now?

While the Alberta Population is over three million, one third of this is in the City of Calgary. In Calgary, we have 14 Alderpersons and each district has about 78,000 population so why the variance in setting the electoral divisions with only a population of 37,820?

There are too many backbenchers outside of the Cabinet and as the economy is tough these days, it would make more sense to change the boundaries to increase the population, thus reducing the number of representatives in the House which would be more effective and save us millions of taxpayer's dollars.

The Government always looks to various professions to reduce their expenditures, such as the Health Department and Teachers, but the Government does not want to show any restraint in reducing the size of the Civil Servants as well as its representatives. Let us start to reduce the high cost of Government and be more sensible in handling our taxpayer's dollars.

R.G. McCallum