

Hello,

I am a resident of an urban Edmonton riding. As a citizen of a civilized, democratic society, I have a right to representation by population. Why should my vote be worth less than any other citizen of this province? For too long, this government has been gerrymandering the electoral boundaries for its own political advantage. If this government persists in this undemocratic process, I insist that my taxes be pro-rated to reflect my watered down vote.

Joyce Miller
