

To whom it may concern

I am writing to voice my opinion to the new name change from Athabasca Redwater to Athabasca Sturgeon. I am opposed to the name change and at a recent AGM of the Constituency the members unanimously agreed the name should remain as Athabasca Redwater. The residence of the Constituency deserve to have some consistency are comfortable with the current name and should retain that identity, there is no need to make a name change. I hope that the Commission gives consideration to this request.

Yours truly,

David M. Broda
Former MLA for Redwater
