

Hi!

I just wanted to add my voice to those who are in support of changing the name of the Dunvegan- Central Peace riding in honour of Grant Notley.

I'm not an NDP member, but I remember that Grant Notley was well respected by all members of the legislature. He was a model of parliamentary behavior and loved this province. I think he should be honoured - if not him, who? You do have a riding named after Peter Lougheed, who I think many Albertans of all political stripes would also hail as a leader and lover of this province. Grant Notley fits the same category - and it would affirm that we are first and foremost Albertans, united for the good of our province, not politically partisan.

Yours sincerely,
