

Hello.

Having heard about the proposal to rename the constituency of “Dunvegan-Central Peace” to “Notley-Central Peace” I would be glad to see a constituency named for Grant Notley.

My feeling has always been that his opinions did represent to some degree the conscience of the Legislature he served – his untimely death was a loss for all in the province. His character was one that was spoken of with respect by many high-ranking members of the PC party, including Premier Lougheed, who stated at the time of his funeral, that he had influenced the development of legislation for the good – wording very like that if my memory is correct. To my knowledge, he did not use his position to find ways to make money for himself – he was an outstanding and tenacious MLA, working in always straightened circumstances in a very imbalanced Legislature.

Grant Notley cared about the people he represented with principles that transcended party politics to affect legislation in such a way as to preserve the Public Good in perpetuity.

The change of the name would recognize this embattled, but utterly exceptional man.

Sincerely,

Yvonne Brown
